

Science Show Spotlights New Car Showroom Opening

Chevrolet Dealer Marks 27 Years With Auto Corp.

If Paul Loranger had a serial number it would be about the same as the 1923 fresh air model Chevy touring car that is displayed in the new showroom on Cabrillo avenue.

Paul and the sleek cloth top model both joined Chevrolet 27 years ago in 1923.

This week with the opening of the modern new-car showroom and offices of Paul's Chevrolet, 1640 Cabrillo avenue, the local new and used car dealer will be celebrating his third anniversary in Torrance.

LATEST NEWCOMER . . . Is this nearly all-glass new car showroom of Paul's Chevrolet, 1640 Cabrillo avenue. Formal opening will be held this Saturday and Sunday.

Celebration Marks 3rd Year of Paul's Chevrolet in Torrance

Some of the wonders of science presented in a simple yet dramatic manner will be demonstrated this weekend at the Previews of Progress show to be staged during the two-day formal opening of Paul's Chevrolet new-car showroom.

Opening of the modern display room marks the third anniversary of the founding of the local firm by Paul Loranger.

Those who attend the scientific yet non-technical Preview of Progress, will see demonstrations of jet propulsion in action, will hear music broadcast on a beam of light, a cold stove that cooks, "jumping rubber" and other interesting demonstrations.

Actual flying models of the famous F36 jet plane will be shot through the air by Albert Hagman, science commentator for the General Motors Show.

First public showing will be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 13 and again that evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A showing for the students at Torrance High School will be presented Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium.

In addition to the public performance Saturday evening, Paul's Chevrolet will present a free movie that no boy intending to enter the Chevrolet-sponsored Soap Box Derby should miss. The color sound movie is actual scenes of the running of the finals of the derby in Akron, Ohio.
